“ My condolences to you all; I know you will miss Uncle John Wesley. I always think of Braves baseball, going to the pond, Delta, a beautiful yard, and your whole family whenever I think of him.

“ To My Dad,

Thank you for teaching me that some risks are worth taking, but to always have a back up plan. By your example I have traveled the world, seen and done things that others can only imagine.

Thank you for refusing the path that someone else wanted for you. By choosing your own way you ended up on the other side of the country and met my mother; the woman of your heart and life partner.

Thank you for always doing what it took to provide for our well being. Whether it was taking on extra work or just teaching us the value of a dollar, you showed us the pride that comes from never having to ask for a hand out.

Once you told me that you used to call me your little princess. I am so sorry I never told you that you were my first knight in shining armor. Thank you for showing me that even a princess must be strong enough to fight her own battles in life. While you are no longer by my side you will always be in my heart.

Thank you, Dad. I will miss you.
